

A- Read the following text then do the tasks below:

Some students wanted to know whether the fireworks, which are used in festivals, can work on the Moon or not. You would think it couldn't work because there is no oxygen on the Moon's surface. But the answer is yes, it probably would. As you know, fire needs oxygen. But many fireworks have a chemical mix that contains a source of oxygen, so they could still work. And with the Moon's low gravity, a firework would fly up several kilometers! It is not the same case on Earth. Since there is more gravity on Earth than on the Moon, a firework can't fly up a long way.
